I'm a multi-disciplinary artist currently living in South-West Cornwall. I recently graduated from Edinburgh College of Art where I studied Intermedia. My roots are in Scotland and Cornwall and I've enjoyed exploring my creative practice in both places. 'Porth' (meaning 'cove' or 'harbour' in Cornish) is a piece that feels like a departure from my usual mediums of printing, collage, assemblage and weaving - it's cheerful burnt orange tones were fun to experiment with!
